The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-46 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,500,896. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the patent fully disclose the colorant of the claims of the application and its' use for coloring rubber substrates. The specification of the patent makes it clear that crumb rubber is intended.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 26-33, 35, 37, 39-43, 46 and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Christensen.

Christensen discloses compositions comprising crumb rubber and neoprene (polychloroprene) latex to which has been added a pigment comprising titanium dioxide, and wetting, dispersing or stabilizing additives. Relative amounts of ingredients such as claimed instantly are disclosed.

Art Unit: 1714

Therefore the reference anticipates the rejected claims.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 34, 36, 38, 44, 45 and 47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Christensen.

Chrisrenten discloses compositions as discussed above. The reference fails to explicitly teach applicants' claimed additives of instant claim 34, for example, or the use of organic pigments. The teachings of the reference of the use of "any satisfactory pigments" (column 2, line 18) and the addition of wetting, dispersing or stabilizing additives (column 3, lines 67-68) are seen as rendering obvious these limitations in the instant claims.
